

In-depth news on major corporate developments and event-driven investment topics, from special situations to merger arbitrage, litigation and legislation.

WHO WE ARE

Bringing the marketplace leading news coverage of mergers, events and major corporate actions, CTFN is comprised of a dedicated team of seasoned veterans in the investigative financial and business news arena. Our team of journalists are supported by experienced analysts to provide in-depth research to complement reporting, making CTFN's news product uniquely resourced.

WHAT WE DO

CTFN's mission is to provide differentiated and compelling news to serve the needs of well-informed readers. We achieve this through our dedication to investigative reporting and cultivating diverse relationships with meaningful sources.

CTFN commits to reporting only thoroughly researched news that will make a difference in decision making for our readers, steering clear of reactionary reporting on market volatility or responding to other news sources' stories. The consistency in CTFN's approach affords a dependable news product.

HOW WE SERVE

CTFN's responsibility to create a reliable news product, reflecting the highest values of journalistic integrity, is one we take seriously. CTFN serves our readers by continuously investing in professional development and unparalleled compliance training for our journalist team, as well by developing strategic customer experience services to complement the CTFN news product. CTFN's customer experience services include:

- Direct Consultations with reporters to provide additional clarification on news stories
- Luncheon Series with "Off-Wall Street" speakers on key merger-related issues
